HERRIN MURDER CASE TAKEN TO JURY DECISION

Five Men Owe Future To Hands Of Jury In Herrin Case

JUDGE READS ORDERS

Judge Orders Jurors To Either Convict For Murder Or Acquit

(By the Associated Press)
MARION, Ill., Jan. 18.—The fate of the five men charged with the murder of Howard Hoffman, one of the victims in the Herrin mine riots, is now in the hands of the jury, the case having been submitted at 11:15 after lengthy instructions had been read by Judge Hartwell. In his instructions to the jury he said:

"It is not against the law to mine coal without being a member of the United Mine Workers of America. If any one is assaulted or killed for no other reason it cannot be justified because one was not a member of the organization. If one of the accused men committed the crime and others stood by, aided or encouraged the crime, it is your duty to find all guilty."

After the jury retired Judge Hartwell said: "It is murder or nothing."

The unexpected announcement was made before a crowded court room at the opening of the afternoon session, and Judge D. T. Hartwell immediately ordered an adjournment until 10 o'clock Thursday morning to permit him to prepare his instructions to the jury.

Prosecution Refused Offer.
Under the Illinois law, attorneys for the defense and prosecution alternate in making the final arguments to the jury. The prosecution is entitled to make both the opening and closing address. Tuesday, when the state rested, the defense offered to submit the case to the jury at once without further argument or instructions.

The offer was refused by the prosecution and Otis Glenn, assistant attorney-general, told the court this morning that the state desired six hours for argument. Edward J. Brundage, attorney-general, arrived from Chicago on the morning train with the intention of making a brief statement during the argument on the necessity for law enforcement. Mr. Kerr refused to make any agreement regarding the length of the argument.

Monk's Predictions Of End Of World Is Cause Of Excitement

(By the Associated Press)
MEIKCO CITY.—Considerable anxiety is being shown by the Indian population of the village of Mixcoac, near Mexico City, following the recent declarations of Father Genaro Rivera, a Carmelite monk residing there, that the end of the world will come on December 12, 1954.

The monk bases his prediction on highly complex astronomical observations he has been conducting for years, and he asserts that the millennium is a certainty on the date mentioned. Inasmuch as he is a highly respected man of the village, his assertions have caused great excitement among the credulous Indians. Local newspapers have given much prominence to the predictions.

COMMITTEE ENDS SINCLAIR PROBE

Iowa Senator Suggests All
Questioning Of Magnate
Be Laid Aside

(By the Associated Press)
WASHINGTON, Jan. 18.—An attempt by Harry F. Sinclair, chairman of the board of directors of the Consolidated Oil corporation, to go further into the details of the operations of his company in testimony before the senate committee investigating the Teapot Dome oil transactions, was cut short by Senator Bookhart of Iowa, a member of the committee, who said the committee had decided not to go into the matters named by Sinclair. The announcement by Senator Bookhart was made with the consent of the chairman, Senator La Follette, who has been one of the bitterest critics of the administration's action in regard to the Teapot Dome deal and came when Mr. Sinclair desired to present the obligations assumed by him in securing the lease.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 18.—The relationship of the Sinclair oil interests to other oil concerns is the subject of further scrutiny by the senate committee. H. F. Sinclair, chairman of the board of directors of the Sinclair Consolidated Oil Corporation, has been before the committee and has already given many details of the affairs of his company.

SOLONS AGREE ON PRINTING AWARD

Contract Given To Great
Western Company; Dennis
Bill Forced Through

(By the Associated Press)

OKLAHOMA CITY, Jan. 18.—Following the lead of the administration, the Dennis bill which appropriates $5,000 for the search and $5,000 for the capture of Fred Dennis, missing bank examiner, was passed by the house, the majority leaders reversing their action and allowing the bill to pass.

The expected fight over the awarding of the state printing was not seen. The printing contracts were awarded to the Great Western Printing company, who placed a lower bid than the Oklahoma Leader, which had been awarded the contract by the senate committee's first report.

E. M. Leum, chairman of the committee, brought in an unanimous report that the bid of the Great Western Printing company had been accepted because it was the "best and lowest bid."

A saving of between $15,000 and $20,000 was accomplished through the rejection of the first report, according to casual estimates.

The Leader Publishing company, surrendering as had been expected, offered a bid similar to that which had won approval in the committee of the first report.

A special committee, Charles S. Brice, Jess Harper and Richard Elam, were named members of a special investigating committee authorized under the Elam resolution to investigate the cost of road building material.

(By the Associated Press)

CHICAGO, Jan. 18.—Waiters and customers took to cover today when B. Smith, head of the Smith Construction company, Jonesville, La., fired four shots after a negro waiter had been disrespectful as alleged by Smith.

It is said that while eating in the cafe Smith's check fell to the floor. He asked a passing waiter to pick it up and hand it to him. The negro replied that he was busy. Thereupon Smith drew his revolver and fired four shots, the police said.

At the police station he was asked if he were a member of the Ku Klux. He replied that he was not, but that he was a personal friend of Capt. Skipwith who is under investigation in connection with the Mer Rouge trouble.

MORE WITNESSES FOR GRAND JURY

Fourth Day Finds Session
In Full Swing With
125 Witnesses

Starting their fourth day grind, the Pontotoc county grand jury, called in session by District Judge J. W. Bolen Monday morning, began weeding out the string of witnesses which early packed the halls of the county court building.

County Attorney J. W. Dean announced that approximately 65 witnesses have been summoned before the grand jury. Matters brought before the body as well as the trend of evidence remained the secret of the chosen twelve and the county attorney, who instructs the jury on the evidence brought before them.

Approximately 125 summons have been filed with the sheriff's office during the week. Most of these have already been served and witnesses waiting for their turn to appear before the grand jury.

Sheriff officials maintained that summons were coming to their office with about the same degree of rapidity as the first day of the grand jury hearing.

Sheriff deputies declare that no special portion of the county has been favored with their visits but on the whole, summons have carried them to all parts of the county.

County Attorney Dean stated today that he expected the deliberations of the grand jury to carry them well into next week. He stated that witnesses would probably be summoned for the remainder of the week.

European Countries Seek Better Service Through Telephone

(By the Associated Press)

LONDON, Jan. 18.—The countries of western Europe are about ready to seek improved international telephone communication. As it is today, one cannot speak from one country to another if another country intervenes; contact is possible only when countries are contiguous.

An international conference of telephone officials has been called to consider improvement by the establishment of through trunk lines. The tentative plans include England, Spain, France, Belgium, Germany, Holland, Switzerland, Italy, Morocco, Algeria, Tunis, Tripoli and Egypt. A central point would be chosen in each country for the main trunk line terminal, and the international communication would be operated from these points.

HARRISON AGAIN QUIET; CITIZENS COURT ON ALERT

Twenty-five Indicted For Participation In War
On Railroads

TO PROBE HANGING

(By the Associated Press)

HARRISON, Ark., Jan. 18.—Following the indictment of 25 former employees of the Missouri and North Arkansas railroad by the Boone county grand jury, the investigation is to be continued today by county officials, assisted by the "citizens' court" into the burning of bridges and other depredations on the property of the railroad, and the lynching of Ed Gregor, an alleged striker.

Judge Shinn of the circuit court announced last night that 25 indictments had been returned and warrants placed in the hands of the sheriff for service. However, only two arrests had been made at an early hour this morning. The sheriff said his deputies had been unable to locate the others. However, eight men were brought to Harrison to be questioned by the grand jury and "citizens' court". They were placed in jail to await action by the questioning bodies.

"Citizens' Court" Active.

The so-called "citizens' court" now holding sessions here, while not a legally constituted tribunal, is working in conjunction with the circuit court grand jury. It is composed of 12 men selected by citizens from along the entire line of the railroad. The "citizens' court" and committee of 1,000 has been organized for the purpose of preventing further trouble from depredations. It was organized following the threat of the railroad officials to cease operation of the road unless given protection against the destruction of its property.

FORT SMITH, Jan. 18.—With conditions gradually returning to normal at Harrison, no further disturbances are expected in connection with the M. and N. A. railroad troubles, according to a dispatch received here this morning from the Fort Smith Times-Record correspondent.

According to the correspondent all fear of violence or serious trouble is past and Harrison is assuming a normal atmosphere. Members of the committee of 1,000 are quietly returning to their homes and occupations while the committee of 12 maintains order in the city. Those against whom charges are filed will be prosecuted, the committee declared.

LITTLE ROCK, Jan. 18.—Two more indictments, making a total of 30, were returned by the Boone county grand jury in connection with the destruction of the railroad property, and more are yet to come, according to the correspondent of the Arkansas Democrat.

LITTLE ROCK, Ark., Jan. 18.—Preparations for a legislative investigation of the disorders at Harrison, which resulted in the lynching of an alleged striker, the wounding of another and the railroad departure of 200 former forest employees, were completed here today, when the senate appointed a committee to work in conjunction with a house committee to make a complete investigation of the disorders. The committee will leave for Harrison Tuesday.

A HISTORIC FOOL

An exchange carries a page of cuts of the biggest fools in the world's history. Chief among these is Benedict Arnold who sold himself to the British for gold. No doubt Arnold himself could be brought back to earth, would confirm this estimate of his conduct. History affords very few instances of men of bravery and ability thus betraying their countries, so Arnold easily heads the list. During the first years of his career he displayed unusual ability as a leader and was regarded as one of the best generals under Washington. Perhaps Arnold was not treated fairly by congress in the matter of his rank, but Washington suffered more at the hands of that body than did Arnold, but never for a moment did his allegiance waver.

Arnold's career as a soldier virtually ended when he donned the red coat of a British officer, for although he displayed much brutality in prosecuting the war against his native country, he never showed the spirit that animated him as he led the charge at Saratoga. He was hated and insulted by his fellow British officers and the remainder of his life was filled with bitterness. There was no one he could call his friend and the odium of his traitorous conduct ever clung to him. He was indeed a man without a country and whose life was filled with the greatest imaginable bitterness. His name will always have its place in history, but if he had the power to obliterate it and erase from the minds of men the memory of his existence there is no room to doubt that he would rise from his grave to do it. The world hates a traitor and Arnold must share with Judas Iscariot the infamy of the greatest traitors in history. In guiding the coming generations and pointing out ideals to emulate, it is sometimes necessary to point out an example of what a man ought not to be. At such times the name of Arnold is one of the first that comes to the mind of the teacher.

A HUGE JOKE

One of the greatest jokes of all time was that the white people played on themselves when they gave to the American Indian the territory now comprising the state of Oklahoma. When the Indians were moved to their new camping grounds out beyond the Father of Waters, it was thought they were being sent to a land well nigh worthless.

But the white man of the entire continent is now paying the Indian in multiplied millions for the products he so freely gave away. Little did the members of congress imagine they were donating the greatest oil fields in the world, the greatest lead and zinc mines in the world, some of the greatest coal fields in the world, the greatest natural gas fields in the world, and countless other minerals which is making wealth for those who have the money and foresight to develop the resources.

And yet the resources have scarcely been tapped. As a matter of fact, the greatest wealth does not lie under the ground but on the surface. With a climate wonderfully fitted to the growing of vegetables, poultry and hogs, there is wealth for those who know the business and apply principles to their production. Texas now boasts of being the greatest turkey country in the world, but the climate of Texas is no better fitted to turkey raising than that of Oklahoma.

It is true agriculture is now at a low ebb, due to the poor prices farmers are receiving for their products, compared with the prices of other things. But this condition will be changed before long and profits on the farm will be possible.

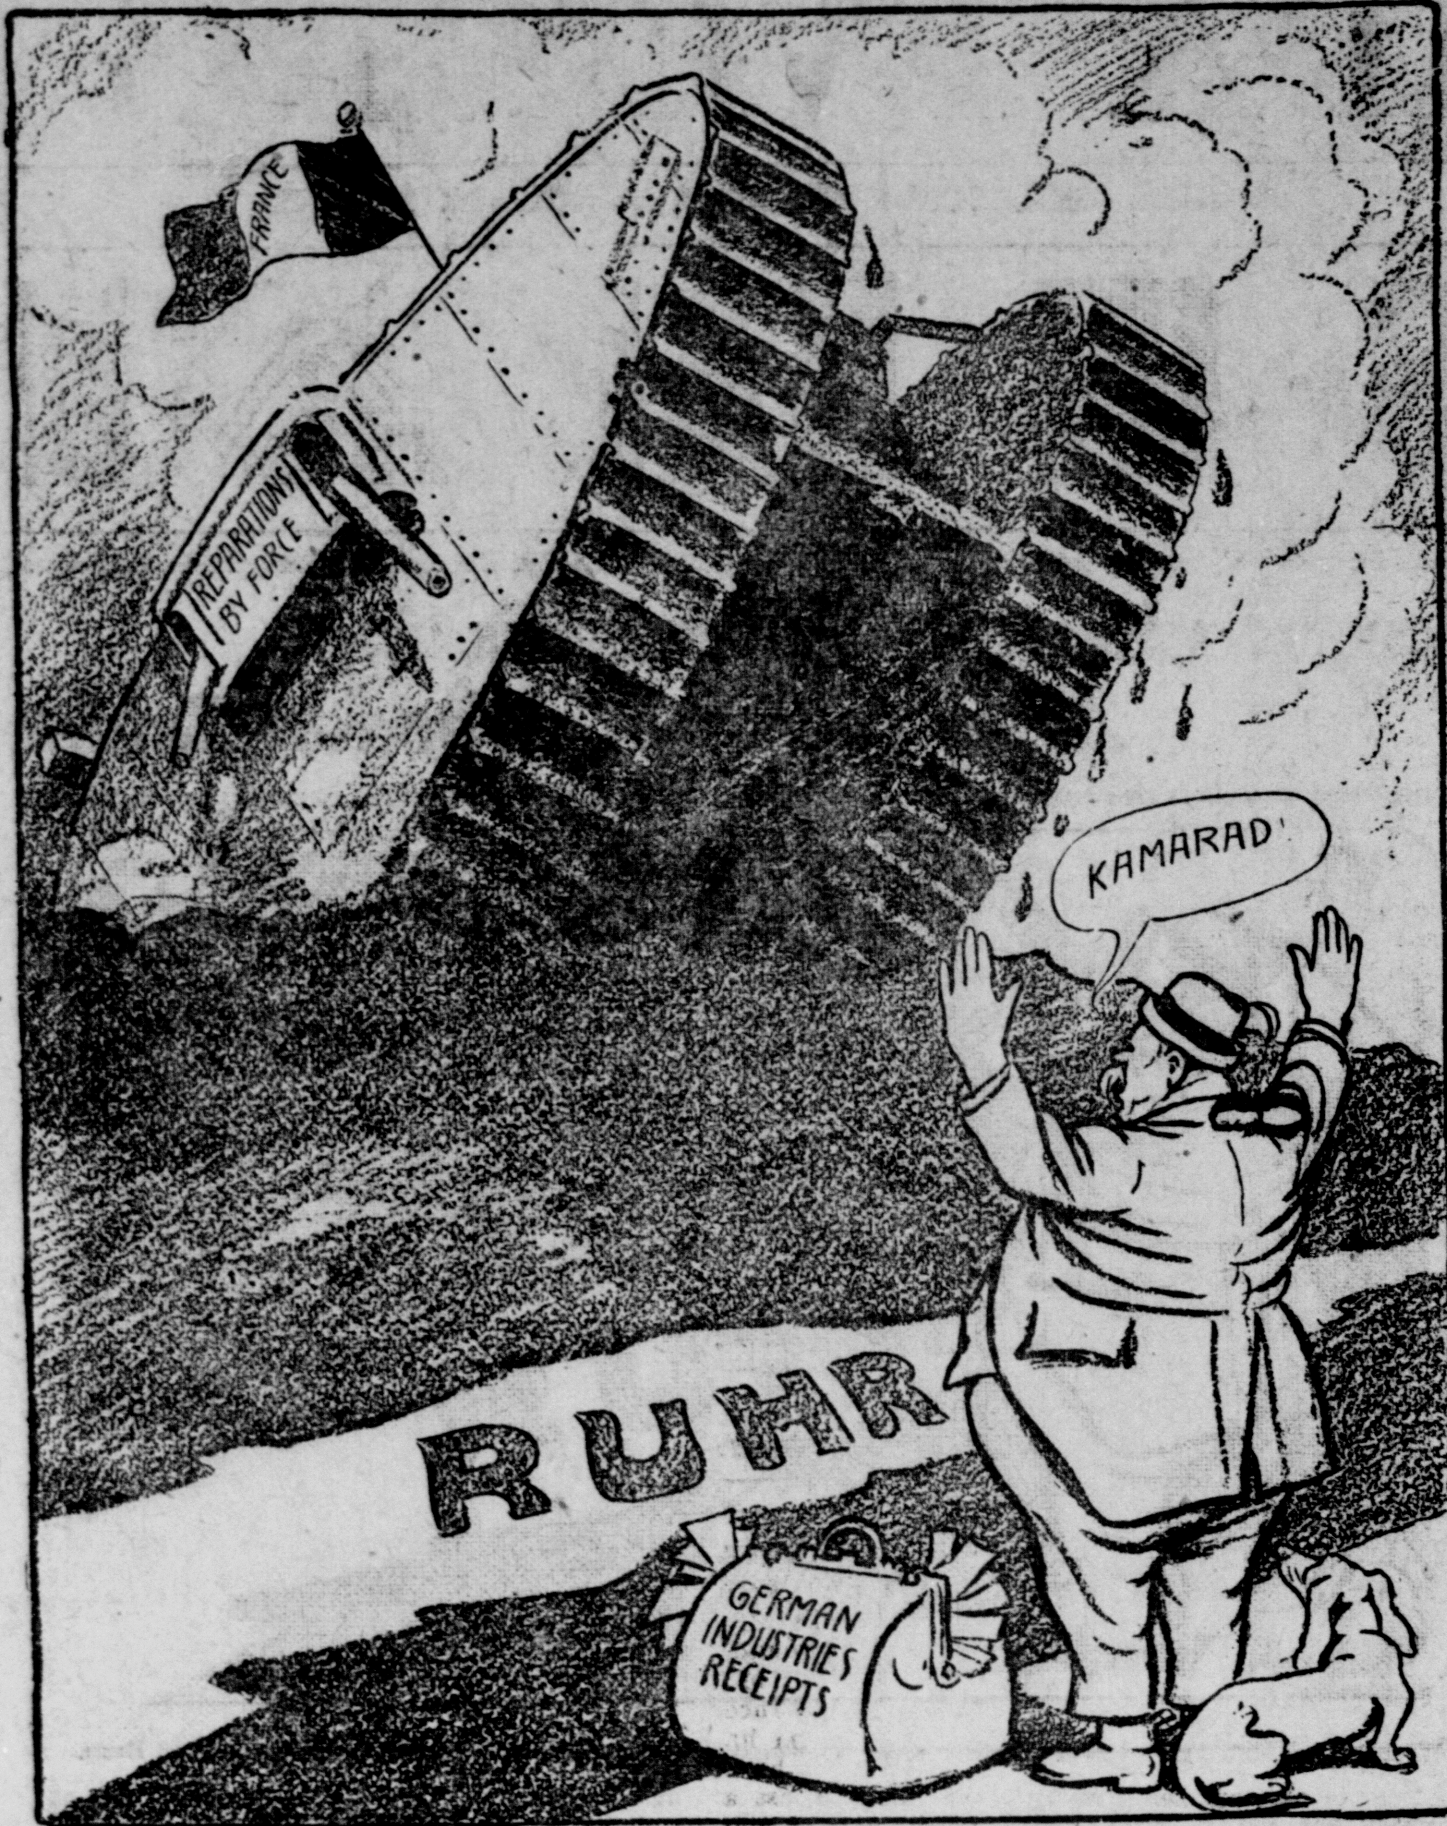

According to the weather forecast of a well known almanac this part of the country should now be under a coat of snow with a storm blowing at a 2.40 speed. The man who made those figures will have to guess again, or if he will live in Oklahoma a year or two, he will either quit his present job or acknowledge to the world that he belongs at the head of the class popularly known as fools and green ones at that.

Somehow a poet can write much more eloquently about the beauties of the other fellow's job than about his own. The happy laboring man wending his way to a day of toil with pick and shovel, the farmer with his growing crops, fat cattle and loaded fruit trees, the sailor who crosses the briny deep, the shepherd who stands guard over his flock, all these and others are made the subjects of romance and high toned poetry, but the poet has little to say about the beauties of his own struggles to make tongue and backle meet. The subject is altogether too familiar and too painful to beautify with laurel wreaths.

If Jess Willard comes back he will be about the first fighter on record who made good a second time, especially after having been on the shelf for several years. The fighting period is short and the pugilist's career is brief indeed. It is always just a question of a few years until a younger man comes along and puts the older one to sleep.

With oil at Pauls Valley and with another field at Wetumka, and then with shallow fields in this county, Ada is almost certain to be an oil metropolis within a year or two at the most.

DER COLLECTOR!

The Forum of the Press

Minnesota's Super-Dairymen

(Kansas City Journal)

Those Minnesota Swedes, worthy representatives of a race proverbial for its sturdy agriculturalism, seem to "have something" on their racial rivals. For the second time have developed a cow that breaks a world's record for butterfat yield. This may be transposing the matter of credit, since the cows gave the milk, but it is almost equally obvious that scientific development had much to do with piling up such records as those of Minnesota's world champions—May Walker, Olive Homestead and Duchess Skylark Ormsby.

May has just wrested the championship from the Duchess by producing, during the 365 days ending December 13, last, 1,217.27 pounds of butterfat, equal to 1,521.6 pounds of butter. The Duchess, also a Minnesota product, held the previous record with 1,506.9 pounds of butterfat.

The race is thus manifestly extremely close and in strict fairness the Duchess is entitled to share in the encomiums being heaped upon her conqueror—of which the following from the classic Boston Transcript is an outstanding sample:

Before such performances the altruist and the utilitarian stand on common ground. Both yield their tribute automatically. What is more beautiful, or admirable, or claims the former, than a cow which so well performs one of the functions of nature has appointed her to perform; what more marketable asset could one hope for in a cow, excels the latter, than the ability to provide her owner with fifteen hundred pounds of butter in the course of a calendar year.

But wouldn't it be somewhat of a joke if the praise lavished on the thrifty swedes should be found to be misplaced and that May had been developed by a representative of some "hated" racial rival? The facts however, speak for themselves in glowing terms—of butterfat.

Go and Get It.

(Daily Ardmoreite)

A little Cousseism wouldn't be amiss right here in Ardmore at the present time. The morale of the citizens of this city needs a stimulant badly.

Men complaining of the hard times, yet complaining never helped anything. Ardmore is getting a little better every day in a number of ways.

There is an encouraging amount of building on here now. Store buildings, manufacturing plants, residences are under construction or actually being planned.

New oil wells are being brought in. Ardmore is the capital of a great section of Southern Oklahoma. It is destined to be the trading center of this new empire.

Times are never going to be as flourishing as they were just after the war. Stop dreaming that they will. Every merchant here will tell you that business is much better now than it was before the war. Business thus far this year has a better start than it had a year ago. That is a fact that will bear investigation.

Now and then a firm goes "broke". That is perfectly natural. In the over-expansion following the war, numerous mushroom business came into existence. The shrinking process is bound to reap its toll.

Eastern business men affirm that 1923 will be the first really normal year since the war. Why can't Ardmore take advantage of it?

Let's quit showing a streak of yellow, and go out and get the things that we really deserve.

All things don't come to those who wait, but many things come to those who hustle while they wait. Let's make the most of the times that are, rather than worrying for times that never will come again.

FORD SAYS WAR CAUSED BY IDLE

Detroit Manufacturer Plans To Extend "Busy" Plan Over World

(By the Associated Press)

DETROIT, Jan. 18.—Henry Ford's industrial expansion program is world-wide, not national, in scope, and has been undertaken with the underlying motive of educating the people of the world to such a degree and of making them so prosperous "that wars will be ended forever."

This was disclosed today as the motive back of the Detroit manufacturer's desire to extend his operations into every part of the world. Mr. Ford believes that "a busy, prosperous people do not stop work to make war; they go to war only when it is necessary to protect their homes or their ideals when these are menaced by some more idle nation."

"When the time comes that every one, everywhere, has a job, and lasting prosperity has been created as a result, the people of any nation will be too busy and too happy to even think about war," the manufacturer says. Therefore, it is pointed out by those in close touch with him he is convinced that world industrial expansion, bringing with it prosperity for all people in all lands, automatically will make war impossible.

The manufacturer is known to believe that the automobile is the agent that will usher in the millennium of world peace.

"When the people of any country get to understand automobiles and use them daily, they will know considerably more about machinery," he declares. "Then, in the course of a few years agricultural machinery will appear in that country. Hundreds of bushels of grain will be produced where only a few were grown before. In many foreign countries the farmers know nothing of machinery. Probably they will not know it until they have learned to use automobiles."

be brought in to till the fertile acres if the peasants once were taught to use it. There would be no more hunger anywhere in that country.

"The same is true, to a greater or less degree, of every country under the sun."

Mr. Ford, according to those close to him, has come to look upon automobiles, not merely as the products of his factories or the plants of other motor companies, but as a means of civilizing and pacifying every part of the world.

What They Say

The School Question

The question, "What is the matter with our Public Schools," is often asked. Such a question is perfectly natural in a Democratic republic. Free and progressive people are never satisfied but thru fault finding with what is, make improvements. However it doesn't take a critics mind to see that our public schools are not what they should be.

The efficiency of our school system has one common measure—the quality of its production. This production is below par intellectually, socially and morally. (Do not call us a pessimist, even an optimist can see this). The average high school graduate is a poor thinker. It takes years of practical life to take out what the school has put in. This process of elimination is an economic waste. Our course of study is not to blame for this condition. The spirit of the public and the attitude of the teachers is the underlying cause. The rural people are dreamers—praying for the day when they can move to town, rear their children in good society, giving them a chance to be "somebody." Will this attitude on the part of the parents produce a healthy ambition? Will their children love work? Judged from experience are their children likely to be successful? An ambition for self betterment is laudable but dangerous.

The teacher, especially in the rural schools, helps her pupils to build air castles which are pleasing but more fairy like than real.

This produces an abnormal imagination which the mill of experience must grind out. Imagination should be developed along practical ideals. Distorted vision is the curse of the age. Society loves show and in its desire to attract has lost modesty. The schools attempt to keep up with the gaudy crowd—you know the result. Who is to blame? Not the children, parents, and teachers. This whole affair leads to one conclusion—the products of our public schools are a lot of impractical, selfish dreamers. Shall we continue thus? If so the cruel mill of experience will ever grind.

Who Gets the Most for His Money?

The fellow who buys haphazard—or the chap who puts his every-day purchasing on a business basis?

The latter of course. He is the one who reads the advertisements and discovers just where he can buy what he wants. He is the one who realizes the great value of advertising when it comes to the important business of spending his hard-earned money.

The well-informed shopper always has the advantage when it comes to stretching dollars. And you can't possibly be up-to-date on the shopping news unless you make a practice of reading the advertisements. The advertisements show you how to save money—and steps—and time. Watch them carefully.

Anything that increases your purchasing power is working hard for you.

Make the advertisements serve you well.

Read them regularly.

Now is the time to fight constipation with Bran—Start to-day!

Don't give the diseases that follow in the track of constipation a chance to lodge in your system! Get after constipation with nature's greatest helper—BRAN. Kellogg's Bran, cooked and krumbled—because it is ALL BRAN and because it will give you permanent relief from constipation! It is scientifically prepared to relieve suffering humanity from constipation and it will do that.

Bran's action is wonderful. It sweeps and cleanses and purifies. It knocks out the dangerous toxic poisons and frees the system from pollution! Try Kellogg's Bran for a week. Eat it regularly—two tablespoons each day; as much each meal in chronic cases. You will be astounded at the difference in your feelings!

Kellogg's Bran should not be confused with common bran which is unpalatable and difficult to eat. Kellogg's is cooked and all ready to serve and really delicious. Eat it as a cereal, sprinkled over your favorite hot or cold cereal or cook or mix it with hot cereal. In the latter cases add two tablespoons for each person.

Do you realize what Kellogg's Bran can do for you and for your family; do you realize that it will keep sickness away; that it will put every one on a new health footing; that it will free you all from pills and cathartics?

Kellogg's Bran is particularly delightful made in raisin bread, in macaroons, popovers, muffins, etc. Recipes are printed on each package! You will say that Kellogg's Bran is a blessing to humanity.

All grocers sell Kellogg's Bran!

Second term, which concludes the school year, was started off in good shape with over 400 students enrolled in the various classes of school. The 56 seniors, which started out at the beginning of the school year are still regularly enrolled in the class.

Herbert Felix had charge of the chapel exercises Monday and rendered an appropriate talk to the students. Other numbers on the program were; solo by Jesse Bell Ellis; piano solo by Irby Mallory and a very interesting talk by Mr. W. D. Little, publisher of the Ada News. He explained several phases of newspaper business.

Material for the high school opera has not yet arrived but is expected momentarily. Work will be started on the play as soon as the material arrives. Characters for the play have not all been selected.

Reverend E. O. Whitwell, pastor of the First Presbyterian church, conducted the services Wednesday, pastor's day and delivered an interesting talk on the economic problems of the day.

"Professor Pepp" to be presented by the debating society of the high school, is under progress at the present time and characters are preparing for the presentation. The play will be given on some date about the last of the month.

Investigation Reveals Indian Race Not Dying Out; Increase is Shown

(By the Associated Press)

ATLANTIC CITY, N. J., Jan. 13. —The American Indians as a race are not dying, as so many people think. On the contrary, they show this year a slight numerical increase as compared to 12 months ago, according to Dr. E. E. Higley, of Chicago, superintendent of the work among Indians of the Board of Home Missions of the Methodist Episcopal church.

Dr. Higley disclosed this condition in an address today at the annual meeting in this city of the Home Mission council of the church. The Indian census a year ago showed 240,838 Indians; now they number 240,917.

"There is no field of home missionary endeavor where the spirit and processes of co-operation among these denominational boards and workers is more manifested than in the field of christian work among Indians," continued Dr. Higley.

"The christian missionary work among Indians, includes a study of the missionary stations and native churches, their economic and spiritual resources, (2) an estimate of the Indian schools, both governmental and mission, their educational status, and the opportunity presented for a unified religious educational program; (3) a survey of the 147 reservations and other communities where Indians are to be found in any appreciable number.

"There are 90,000 Indian boys and girls between five and 16 years of age who are of school age, about 30,000 are enrolled in government schools with 30,000 in public schools and the remaining 30,000 are still without school privileges. In the Indian school special emphasis is put upon agriculture and home economy."

Oil News

The American Oil and Refining company encountered a flow of gas, amounting to about a million and a half cubic feet a day, in a well in section 16-4-6 just across the road from the Colbert schoolhouse, late Wednesday.

The sand was reached at 1520 feet and the drill penetrated the sand at thirty feet, going into a bit of salt water at the bottom. How deep the sand is has not been determined.

The gas sand has put the rock hounds and others interested in oil to speculating. It is believed by some this is the same sand that was picked up in the Bathrop well in the west side of the same section at about 1400 feet. In the Bathrop well, however, it was dry, carrying neither gas nor oil. It is also thought that it was encountered in one of the old wells drilled west of the gas field.

The sand in the Colbert well, it is reported, carried some oil. The presence of the salt water indicates, so Ed Gillett insists, a good pressure behind the oil. It is his belief that when some one sticks the drill into this sand two or three hundred feet higher, he will get a big oil well.

The company is planning to case off the gas and drill deeper.

The Lancaster well in section 34-4-6 just east of town on the P. A. Norris farm, is drilling at 400 feet.

ROFF GUARDS PILE UP VICTORY OVER LOCALS

In a basketball game featured by much goal shooting and some lack of endurance, the Roff guards beat the Ada brothers-in-arms to the tune of 42 to 39.

The guards from Roff swept the locals off their feet in the first few moments of the play and threatened to pile up a score far out of reach of the local military cagers but a final rally in the last quarter boosted the score of the locals well within the danger zone and threatened the early gains of the Roff guardsmen.

The unusually heavy score indicated that the teams were scoring almost at will without heavy opposition of defense guards on either team.

Ralph Waner and Parker Floyd of the local squad threatened to surpass the early lead of the Roff squad. They were outstanding stars of the game. Washington did much of the goal shooting for the Roff team.

Wages On Incline In Japanese City, Reports Indicate

TOKIO—The result of investigations made by the Tokio Chamber of Commerce indicates an upward tendency of general laborer's wages during October. Of 50 different classes of labor, eight dropped in wages, and 10 rose, while the rest, numbering 52, remained practically unchanged, the increase in October on the general average amounting to half a sen.

Among those whose wages dropped in October were weavers, glass makers, brick layers, shoe makers, and tailors. The wages of those engaged in canning, cement making, spinning and blacksmithing appreciated, while unchanged were the wages of those connected with match making, brewery, confection, lumber and general fancy goods.

Don't Grow Old Before Your Husband

Science Now Shows What Often Causes Premature Loss of Youth, Beauty and Attractiveness and Makes Women Fretful, Nervous and Run-Down

If Your Face Is Haggard, Thin and Pale, Try at Our Expense, This Simple Home Remedy Which Often Makes Women Look and Feel Years Younger and Surprisingly Increases Strength and Energy

Thousands of women are like the woman in this picture. They have grown old much more rapidly than their husbands. The roses have faded from their cheeks, they are weak, pale and careworn at a time of life when they should still be filled with buoyant health and radiant with youthful beauty—pale, thin, watery blood has fastened its grip upon them and is gradually sapping their health, vitality and beauty. In most cases men safeguard their health better than women by eating coarser foods, being more out of doors and leading more active lives, therefore keeping their blood stream strong and vigorous. For want of good blood a woman may look old and feel old at thirty; pale, haggard and all run-down—while at fifty or sixty, with good health and plenty of rich, red blood, she may still be young in feeling and so full of life and attractiveness as to defy detection of her real age.

For the purpose of enriching the blood and helping to create millions of new red blood cells, there is nothing like good old Nuxated Iron. Physicians usually prescribe two five-grain tablets after meals. Nuxated Iron directly increases the activity of the blood making organs and supplies true red blood food, thus increasing the power of the body to transform lifeless food matter into living cells, flesh and tissue.

CLEAN KIDNEYS BY DRINKING LOTS OF WATER

Eating too much rich food may produce kidney trouble in some form says a well-known authority, because the acids created excite the kidneys. Then they become overworked, get sluggish, clog up and cause all sorts of distress, particularly backache and misery in the kidney region, rheumatic twinges, severe headaches, acid stomach, constipation, torpid liver, sleeplessness, bladder and urinary irritation.

The moment your back hurts or kidneys aren't acting right, or if bladder bothers you, begin drinking lots of good water and get about four ounces of Jad salts from any good pharmacy; take a tablespoonful in a glass of water before breakfast for a few days and your kidneys may then act fine. This famous salt is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia and has been used for years to flush clogged kidneys and stimulate them to activity; also to neutralize the acids in the system so that they no longer irritate thus often relieving bladder disorders.

Jad Salts cannot injure anyone; makes a delightful effervescent lithia-water drink which millions of men and women take now and then to help keep the kidneys and urinary organs clean, thus often avoiding serious kidney disorders. By all means have your physician examine your kidneys at least twice a year.

The Veddas, now an almost extinct race of Ceylon, have none of them ever been known to laugh and they seem unable to tell a lie.

This simple treatment clears the head, loosens irritating phlegm, cools inflamed, stinging tissues and breaks the cold. See bottle for simple directions. Go to your drugstore—spare yourself serious trouble—start now to take

IF SKIN BREAKS OUT AND ITCHES APPLY SULPHUR

Just the moment you apply Mentho-Sulphur to an itching, burning or broken out skin, the itching stops and healing begins, says a noted skin specialist. This sulphur preparation, made into a pleasant cold cream, gives such a quick relief, even to fiery eczema, that nothing has ever been found to take its place.

Because of its germ destroying properties, it quickly subdues the itching, cools the irritation and heals the eczema right up, leaving a clear, smooth skin in place of ugly eruptions, rash, pimples or roughness. You do not have to wait for improvement. It quickly shows. You can get a little jar of Rowles Mentho-Sulphur at any drug store. Adv.

American Girls Locate Missing Greek Refugees

(By the Associated Press)
ATHENS—The Lost and Found Bureau of the Near East Relief has received 12,000 inquiries for missing persons among Greek refugees during the past month. A large number of them came from relatives in the United States and England.

More than 2,000 missing refugees have been traced by the Relief officials through the system of semi-weekly bulletins issued from the offices at Athens, Salonika, Mitylene and Chios, and posted in the 500 refugee centers.

One of the most interesting sights of Athens is the crowd of several hundred persons who gather daily from dawn to dark, about the American bulletin boards. The Near East Relief rooms formerly occupied by Dowager Queen Olga to serve them as headquarters. Two American girls, Myrtle Nolan, of Minneapolis, and Louise MacLachlan, of Detroit, have charge of the Lost and Found Bureau.

Men rave about the freedom of women, when they have no one to blame but themselves.

Not many moons ago women were content to keep to their wigwags and leave the cruel outside world alone. Men kept hating her with promises to come into politics and see a bit of the world outside the front doorstep. Then the war came along and then off came the lid. It was comparatively quiet for a while after they discovered the new world, some running around in a daze unable to appreciate the new fact of freedom, but after a while they began to eat and strength came to them. They walked, they ran, and as their eyes got busy they fairly bayed: "Has this been going on long," indicating life and its pleasures with a wave of the hand.

They began to ask why they had been kept from all this world freedom, and a great cry of rebellion was heard over the land. Now we have 'em everywhere.

The outburst followed with the latest form of dancing which proves and equal medium for their pent up energy.

"There ought to be a law against it," somebody said.

"Sh-h-h! Do you want everybody doing it?"

Local authorities maintain they are going to arrest "live wire" dancers at the masquerade dance here Friday week if they are not properly insulated.

When a woman gets old enough to quit worrying over her husband's absence, she begins worrying about her daughters.

Local health notes: "Walk, if you would live long," but keep an eye on the automobiles.

There was a young fellow named Strauss.

Who got on a terrible souse, He had the right key In the keyhole, you see, But the keyhole was in the wrong house."

Sombody suggested that Ford had invented a new wagon, when a wooden-wheeled one appeared on the streets yesterday.

Styles may change and fads may come and go but the firemen stick to their galoshes.

Hangman Tries Own Stunt. (By the Associated Press)

LONDON—A telegram received here from Moscow states that the hangman Loukoff, who has been in the service of the political secret police for the last two years and is said to have hanged 2,000 persons, has committed suicide by hanging himself in his room at Moscow.

ADA HI WINNER IN GAME WITH DURANT

Losing their energy in the first game of the year's basketball schedule, the Ada Hi cagers emerged from their game with the Durant five after they had piled up a final score of 30-17.

Falling under an avalanche of steady team work, good passing and accurate goal shooting, the Durant quintet was unable to overcome the early lead and became a formidable foe to the advance of the Ada cagers.

Ada began scoring early in the game and continued steadily through out both halves with no fear of being overtaken by the Durant team.

Potts and Rayburn for the local five, showed up in the stellar role while the entire team played with clockwork preciseness, which caused the defeat of the inferior Durant squad.

The game was comparatively clean with little show of ruffness. Rayburn was the only member of the Ada team to be called out with four personal fouls to his credit.

Fight! Fight! Fight!—Every drug store, business house and street corner in Ada resounded with predictions, hopes and anticipations over the long-headed ring bout between Arch Cooper, Ada, and Jimmy DeLaney of Shawnee, here tonight at the National guard armory.

The fight fans of the city have been looking forward to the battle as the opening of the fight season in Ada and as the settling of an old-time dispute between the two contenders.

Cooper, managed by A. R. Dixon, held light workouts today before the bout tonight Dixon announces that Cooper has been grueling under strenuous workouts during the past week and is in the prime of his career. Cooper hits the scales around 150 pounds and is entered as a light-middleweight.

DeLaney and his manager arrived here tonight and reported ready for the fight tonight. DeLaney has been working out at Shawnee and is in excellent condition for the fight tonight.

DeLaney is considered odds in the bout tonight, because of his many ring victories since making the game his study. Out of 28 battles DeLaney has stood for the gong and had his hand held aloft in all except one.

Cooper, while entering in the ring for his fifteenth battle, has convinced some of the best in the state ring he has a right to challenge even to the state's best. Seven knockouts have been marked up on his fight card, a record that cannot be entirely overlooked.

Dutch Stone of Ada and Shorty Call of Allen will tangle in the semifinals. This bout has aroused much interest among the fight fans here and promises to be a good introduction to the main bout.

Other preliminaries include Jack Edwards of Allen and his sparring partner in a three round exhibition; "Slick" Hightower and "Yellow Boy" Felix a three round decision; Young Morgan and Bud Johnson of Ada in an exhibition bout.

Ticket sales have reached a record high mark for fight entertainments here. Practically all ringside seats have already been sold with a majority of the floor seats disposed.

CENTER BOY'S ESSAY ON SUBJECT OF THRIFT

The following essay was written by John M. Grindstaff, an eighth grade student of Center school. It was adjudged the best of several submitted by students of the school.

Thrift.

Society consists of two classes, the savers and the wasters, the provident and the improvident, the thrifty and the thriftless, the "haves" and the "have nots." In Christ's parable is a graphic picture of the "haves" and "have nots." The former were the industrious servants who doubled the talents given them by their Master. The have nots hid his talent in the ground and empty met his master on settlement day.

The average person thinks of thrift chiefly in terms of money saving; which is important, however, is only one phase of thrift. One who is really thrifty is one who not only saves money but conserves time, strength and effort. Thrift means mental and moral discipline exercising will power, sacrificing personal desires, and overcoming temptations.

"Make all you can, save all you can, and give all you can" is one of John Wesley's sayings. This is good advice because one who follows it must of necessity be industrious, saving, generous. A thrifty person is a happy medium between a spend thrift and a miser; either one of whom is an undesirable citizen. There is no one who is not benefited by acquiring the habit of saving. The boy starting at the bottom of the ladder, the working girl, the family of small income, the business man and the capitalist alike need a surplus for rainy days. Saving is most successful when it is done methodically and regularly. A working boy who was considered a good manager by his friends told one who inquired that he systematically divided his monthly salary each pay day, so much was allotted for living expense, so much for pleasure, and so much for his saving account. The amount he saved had to reach a certain minimum each month. This boy kept a record of all his expenditures; he knew exactly where his money went. After several years he had saved enough to buy a farm and stock it with pure bred livestock and had a respectable sum left in the bank.

"Dost thou love life?" asked Benjamin Franklin in Poor Richard's almanac. "Then do not squander time for that is the stuff life is made of." If I know what a boy does in his spare time, I can tell you what kind of a man he will be.

Arnold Bennett in his interesting essay on "How to live on twenty-four hours a day," replies to the familiar plea of "I haven't the time," with the pertinent retort, "you have all the time there is." Furthermore, every individual has exactly the same allotment of this precious fabric of life. The wise know how to use it to good advantage. In one year 46,225 school boys and girls in the southern states planted and cultivated an acre of corn each and the work was all done in spare time.

In an other year something like 24,000 boys and girls in various parts of the union produced through spare time labor over $500,000 worth of food products.

Theodore Roosevelt said, "When you play, play hard, but when you work do not play at all." A disagreeable task, seems twice as distasteful when one lingers over it, and putting off necessary but unpleasant duties is as useless as it is wasteful.

Boys and girls should learn to make good use of every hour of the day, carelessness, neglect and forgetfulness are the arch foes of thrift and stumbling blocks in the path of progress. If every careless person would set down in a note book at the end of each day the amount of time, money and patience that had been wasted that day because of avoidable negligence or forgetfulness he would have an illuminating record at the end of the week.

Taking care of one's health in on par with storing up material wealth. Progressive industrial institutions now make it their business to see that their employees work under healthful conditions, for it is obvious that a larger and better output is produced by workers who feel well than those who are physically unfit.

Many department stores have provided gymnasiums and recreation rooms for their employees to reduce absence from work. Ill health is an expense wherever it is found, and no one can afford to ignore the needs of the body. Very often what people like to do is the opposite of what they ought to do. A bright person may become lazy, irritable and stupid by doing what they think is right going to moving picture shows every night in the week or by eating unwholesome food, which will destroy a person's will power and make him lazy, stupid and unfit.

Necessity being the mother of invention, doesn't explain monies.

Some towns are so lucky. Insurance man is missing in Cleveland.

Danish Prince In French Army After Loss Of Fortune

(By the Associated Press)
COPENHAGEN—Prince Aage of Denmark, whose fortune was wiped out in a recent bank failure, has gone to Morocco to earn a living as a major in the French colonial forces. Just before he departed, during the Christmas holidays, he said he was genuinely sorry that he could not take up an active business career in his own country. He had never enjoyed anything more, he added, than the job he once held for several months in a foreign branch of a well-known American firm, neither his employers nor the other employees knowing his real identity.

In Denmark Prince Aage was called the American prince. His habits and tastes were similar to those characterizing the citizen of the United States. Most of his intimate friends were Americans, and their mode of life was his. Soon after the war the prince visited the United States, plunged into society, and adopted many American ways.

Recently it was thought desirable to use the prince in an ambassadorial capacity, but, with his fortune gone, he was unable to accept a post paying only a small income. So he has entered military life, having the reputation of being one of the finest soldiers in Denmark. The Princess Aage and their five years old son have gone to live in Italy at the home of the Princess's father, Count Calvi di Bergolo.

You will find simple directions for soap-making on the label of every can of Merry War Lye.

American Girls Locate Missing Greek Refugees

(By the Associated Press)
ATHENS—The Lost and Found Bureau of the Near East Relief has received 12,000 inquiries for missing persons among Greek refugees during the past month. A large number of them came from relatives in the United States and England.
More than 2,000 missing refugees have been traced by the Relief officials through the system of semi-weekly bulletins issued from the offices at Athens, Salonika, Mitylene and Chios, and posted in the 500 refugee centers.
One of the most interesting sights of Athens is the crowd of several hundred persons who gather daily from dawn to dark, about the American bulletin boards. The Near East officials in Athens have been given the rooms formerly occupied by Dowager Queen Olga to serve them as headquarters. Two American girls, Myrtle Nolan, of Minneapolis, and Louise MacLachlan, of Detroit, have charge of the Lost and Found Bureau.

Men rave about the freedom of women, when they have no one to blame but themselves.
Not many moons ago women were content to keep to their wigwams and leave the cruel outside world alone. Men kept bating her with promises to come into politics and see a bit of the world outside, the front doorstep. Then the war came along and then off came the lid. It was comparatively quiet for a while after they discovered the new world, some running around in a daze unable to appreciate the new fact of freedom, but after a while they began to eat and strength came to them. They walked, they ran, and as their eyes got busy they fairly bayed: "Has this been going on long?" indicating life and its pleasures with a wave of the hand. They began to ask why they had been kept from all this world freedom, and a great cry of rebellion was heard over the land. Now we have 'em everywhere.

The outburst followed with the latest form of dancing which proves and equal medium for their pent up energy.
"There ought to be a law against it," somebody said.
"Sh-h-h! Do you want everybody doing it?"

Local authorities maintain they are going to arrest "live wire" dancers at the masquerade dance here Friday week if they are not properly insulated.
